

DAYTON GIRL'S MURDER IS SHROUDED IN DEEP MYSTERY

So Far Police Have Been Unable to Discover
Any Tangible Clue to the Crime

Love Affair Admitted by Young Woman's Relatives—
Peculiar Postal Card Discovered—Articles Carried by Miss Gilman are Missing Today.

(Bulletin.)

Dayton, O., Nov. 23.—A reward of $2000 was offered today by the Men's Welfare League of the National Cash Register company for the capture or information leading to the capture of the murderer of Dona Gilman. The amount was raised by subscription among the employees of which the league is made up. At the factory nothing but the murder is talked of today. The men murmur among themselves, and there is little doubt that a lynching will take place in the event of the capture of the murderer.

Dayton, O., Nov. 23.—Deep mystery today surrounds the murder of Miss Dona Gilman, whose mutilated body was found in the weeds not far from her home. The police have been unable to discover a tangible clue to the murderer, but their investigation so far leads to the belief that the deed was committed by a degenerate and they are now working along these lines.

Coroner Kling is firm in the opinion that the murderer returned to the scene of his crime, some time after it was committed and moved the body to where it was found. Several articles which the girl was known to have had with her are missing, and an effort will be made to discover their whereabouts in the belief that they will lead to a clue to the murderer. The post mortem showed that Miss Gilman died from strangulation. The murderer committed a double crime.

Dayton business men will raise a purse to prosecute the search for the murderer. The citizens are fearfully aroused over the crime and men are being urged to action by the women, who are panic stricken.

That there was a love affair between Dona Gilman and two young men is admitted by the young woman's relatives today. It was a romance in which she found it impossible to decide who stood first in her affections.

Besides Stanley Anderson, a Shar onville lad, there was J. Lee Conover of Dayton. It is said by members of the girl's family that she cared to both more than for any one else.

After Miss Gilman moved from Germantown to Dayton, she did not see Stanley Anderson save at infrequent intervals, and it was then that she became acquainted with Conover. She went with Conover frequently, and he called at her home. Then Anderson started his visits again.

On Monday Miss Gilman was not well and did not go to work until noon. On the street car between her home and the National Cash Register works she met Conover and they laughed and chatted, until Conover's home was reached. There he left her.

Tuesday a mystery developed in the guise of a comic postal card from the young woman. It was of the regular printed sort and had upon it the word "Skiddoo," and the figure "23" under it. Before "Skiddoo" was written "We will" and after the "23" were the words "to Windy Heights," "Windy Heights" is the nickname for Arlington Heights, the home of Miss Gilman.

After writing the "we will" the young woman evidently changed her mind. She scratched out the "we" and replaced it with "I".

The exact meaning of the postal card is at a loss to understand.

Dayton, Nov. 23.—The murder, in which Dona Gilman, aged 20, was the victim, has been brought to light by the discovery of the dead and mutilated body concealed among weeds near the family home at Arlington Heights, which lies near the soliders' home. The face and neck of the victim were lacerated and marked with the imprints of the finger nails of her assailant. The body bore evidence also of assault.

When the tragic fate of the daughter was told the mother, who is bedfast with sickness, the latter succumbed to the shock and is believed to be dying.

The murder took place Tuesday evening as the girl neared her home en route from a factory where she worked. Her failure to return home that night and to report for work at the factory Wednesday led to the neighborhood theory that the girl had stopped. The police were notified, but no thought of a crime entered into the theories and speculations.

An examination yesterday afternoon disclosed that the victim was assaulted and choked to death. Bloodstains were taken to the scene.

"MRS. HANNAH GRAHAM" FAILS TO APPEAR AGAINST NOTED TENOR

New York, Nov. 23.—When the case of Enrico Caruso, the Italian tenor accused of insulting a woman in the Central Park monkey house, was called in Yorkville court today Commissioner Mathot, prosecuting, apologized to the court for his inability to produce "Mrs. Hannah Graham," the woman whom the singer is charged with having annoyed. The commissioner declared the woman had moved out of the jurisdiction of the court and that the dread notoriety had caused her to refuse to testify. Attorney Dittenhoefer for the defense, argued if the arresting officer was aware that the tenor had annoyed women previous to meeting Mrs. Graham he failed to do his duty by not arresting him earlier and that his subsequent action was consequently laid on a question.

Mathot, handicapped by the failure to present in evidence "Mrs. Graham," confined his argument to a "defense of American womanhood from such insults as Caruso." The court took the case under advisement and declined to say whether his decision would be rendered today or not.

From the Shock.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23.—Thomas Stout, a negro, was hanged here this morning for the murder of Sin Lee, Lee, colored, several months ago. While Stout was being executed, a pitiful scene was being enacted in the jail. Mrs. Elta Griffith, a young white woman, under indictment for the murder of her 15 months old baby, was under the care of a physician and trained nurse. She was in a cell overlooking the jail yard when the scaffold was erected, and became a physical wreck at the sight of the death trap. It is believed the shock incident to the hanging this morning may prove fatal. The hanging was witnessed by a large crowd, including many women in the windows of adjacent buildings.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 23.—The Springfield Street Car company has offered the city $100,000 cash and a per centage of the income for the monopoly of carrying interurban cars through the city. GILLETTE

Glanced at Row Boat
Then Prisoner Quickly
Turned His Head

Circumstances Point to Guilt
Of Man on Trial

MEDICAL TESTIMONY OFFERED

Rumor at Herkimer That Defense
May Interpose Plea of Guilty
Of Second Degree Murder.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Woven with circumstances that all point toward guilt, the strength of the state's case against Chester Gillette on trial for the murder of Grace Brown may force the defense to interpose a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree.

Report had it today that counsel had seriously considered the advisability of asking that a plea for a lesser degree of murder be accepted. It is doubtful if the prosecutor would consent to accept such a plea. His case against Gillette closes today and he believes that he has arrayed such a convincing multitude of facts against Gillette that the jury will find the prisoner guilty in the first degree.

"Gillette is guilty and we have proved it," said District Attorney Ward today.

Medical testimony will be produced today to show that Grace Brown was practically dead before her body was thrown into the water. Her head was fearfully battered, which will be testified to today by those who brought the body to the surface of the lake and by physicians.

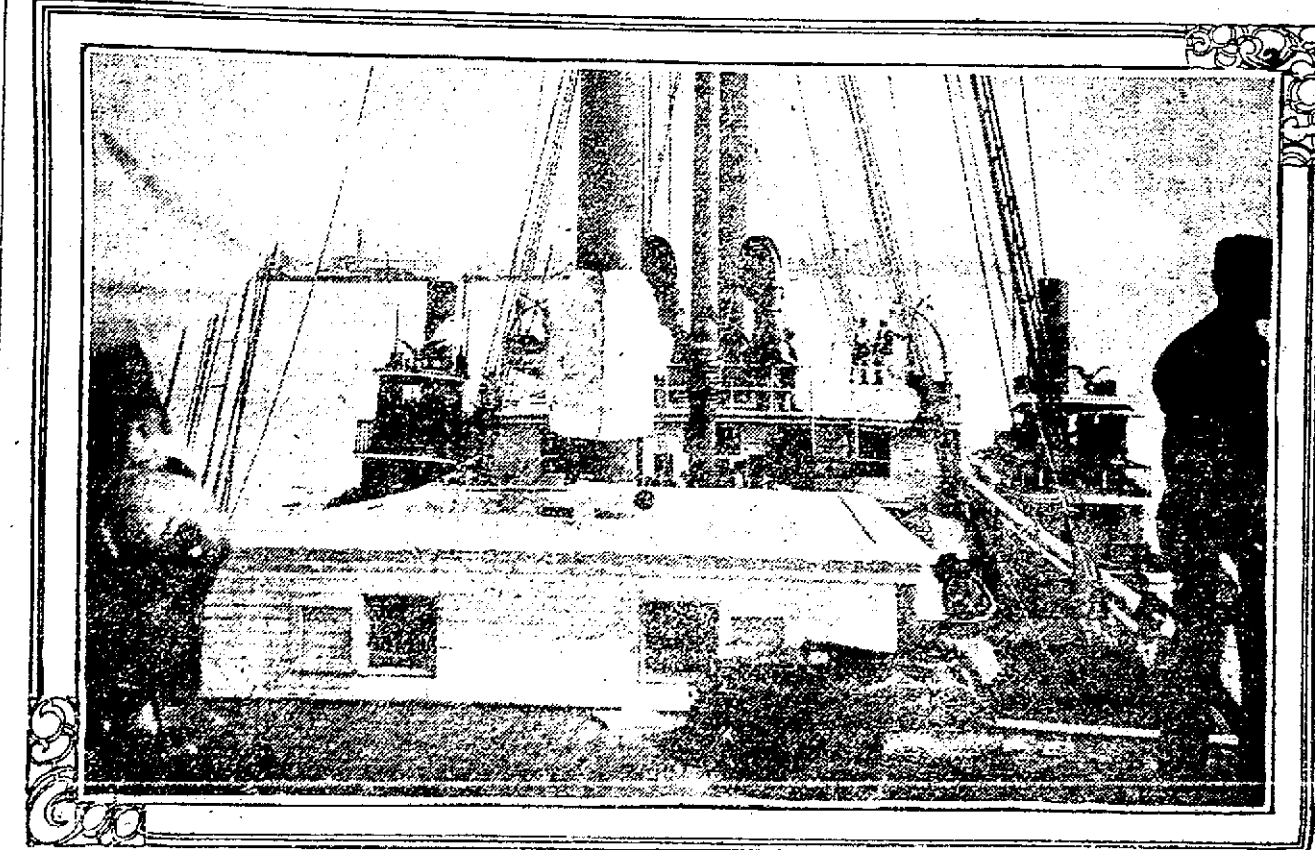

Should counsel for Gillette elect to put in defense and not ask for the acceptance of a plea of murder in a lesser degree, the case will not reach the jury before next week.

The skiff in which Gillette and the girl went rowing was the cynosure of all eyes in court today. Gillette looked at the boat and quickly glanced away.

Thomas Barrett, a guide who testified that he saw Gillette and Grace Brown in the boat was on the stand again today. The defense planned Meade Snyder, his assistant.

WILL FOOS IS CAUGHT IN STORM

NEWARK MAN HAD CLOSE CALL AT BUCKEYE LAKE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Obliged to Spend Night on Island Alone Finally Securing Shelter in a Cottage.

Mr. Will Foos of West Main street, had an experience at Buckeye Lake Wednesday night that he will always remember.

Mr. Foos went to the lake that day to paint his sailboat, and before leaving Buckeye Lake park for Orchard Island in a row boat he left his coat, and hat with Mr. George Norris at the boat house. He was busy all day and started towards dusk to row back to the mainland, not realizing until he was about to start that the weather was threatening. When he reached a point about 200 yards from shore the water became exceedingly rough and he soon found that a further effort to cross the lake would be perilous, so he made his way back to the island with the greatest difficulty. Finally, as he reached the shore drenched and with his boat partly filled with water that had been rolled in by the big waves.

To his consternation Mr. Foos found access to all of the cottages on the island securely barred and it was some time before he was able to find shelter in one of them. Darkness by this time had fallen and he groped his way about the house in an effort to find a match. Finally when half frozen he located one lone match and by its flicker flame succeeded in discovering a pair of blankets with which he wrapped himself and tried to make himself comfortable. The long night passed slowly indeed and without having a wink of sleep. Mr. Foos early next morning made his way over the lake to the Park, where he related his trying experience to a number of people.

The family had become alarmed over his absence and had made a vain effort during the night to ascertain his whereabouts.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure For It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Hurlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Digestase, Ascentic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the ing backward into the throat reaches poisonous discharge therefrom passes the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion. Catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

CATARRH A UNIVERSAL BLOOD DISEASE

Catarrh is usually worse in Winter, because of the cold, damp and suddenly changing climate. Colds are contracted, and neglected and as the secretions from the different inflamed membranes are absorbed into the blood the unpleasant symptoms of the disease commence. The nostrils are stopped up and a constant dropping of mucus back into the throat keeps up a continual hawking and spitting. The patient has dull headaches, ringing noises in the ears, and often slight fever and a depressed, half-sick feeling accompanies the disease. The blood becomes so fully charged with catarrhal matter that stomach troubles are brought on, the kidneys and bladder are affected, and if the blood is not purified of the poison the lungs become diseased because of the constant passage of impure blood through them. Catarrh cannot be cured with washes, sprays, inhalations and such treatment; these cannot reach the poison-laden blood where the real cause is located, and can only give temporary relief and comfort. A disease which affects the entire blood supply as does Catarrh, must be treated with a blood purifier. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Catarrh, which has grown to be a universal disease. It goes to the bottom of the trouble, rids the blood of the catarrhal matter, reinvigorates the circulation, and cures this disgusting disease permanently. When S. S. S. has purified the blood every part of the system receives a supply of fresh, healthy blood; then the inflamed membranes heal and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Write for our book containing information about Catarrh and ask for any medical advice you desire. No charge is made for either.

Pollett Dush as mayor, and Henry Billman as marshal of the village, with arresting and depriving him of his liberty for 39 hours, on no charge, and without any legal warrant or any legal process of any kind. He says that by reason of his arrest he was prevented from attending to his business, and incurred an expense of $12 in obtaining his discharge and suffered damages in the sum of $5000 for which he asks judgment. L. C. Russell, attorney for plaintiff.

Answer of Louis J. Bieber.

In the case of Henrietta Mehr vs. Louis J. Bieber and Theodore Klecker, the defendant, Louis J. Bieber, has filed his answer. Thomas L. King, attorney.

Answer Filed.

In the case of Albert A. Stasel, receiver of the Newark Savings Bank company vs. Wm. Lavin and Mary Lavin the defendants have filed their answer. They say that on or about February 1, 1896, they entered into an agreement with the Homestead Building and Loan Association, wherein they agreed to and did withdraw their answer in said action and permitted the property to be sold; that the Homestead Building and Loan Association agreed to and did purchase the property, agreeing that they would release and pay off all indebtedness as represented by notes and mortgages that the defendants owed to both the Homestead Building and Loan Association, and to the Newark Savings Bank company; that this agreement was made with the knowledge and consent of plaintiff, the Newark Savings Bank company; that defendants have faithfully carried out their part of the agreement and therefore are relieved from the indebtedness as set out in plaintiff's petition.

Defendants admit that A. A. Stasel has authority to bring the action as set out; that Wm. Lavin on the 4th of March, 1892, executed a promissory note to the Newark Savings Bank company for $353.12; that the note was secured by a mortgage and was set up in cross petition in case 91070; defendant denies each and every allegation of plaintiff's petition not admitted to be true.

Defendants ask that the action be dismissed; that the note be turned over to them and the mortgage released and for all other proper relief. Russell & Horner, attorneys for defendants.

Motion Filed.

In the case of Ohio vs. Perry Davis the defendant has filed a motion asking the court to require the State of Ohio to elect upon which count in the indictment in this case it will proceed to try defendant. Kibler & Montgomery, attorneys.

Board of Health Rules. A meeting of the board of health was held in the mayor's office Thursday night when a long list of rules and regulations were adopted. These rules after being published according to law, become laws the same as ordinances passed by the city council. The meeting was attended by the members of the board of public service, the city solicitor and the mayor, the latter being the presiding officer.

Bolen is Arrested. "Doc" Bolen was arrested last night on a charge of stealing an overcoat from Dr. Yowell of East Newark. Bolen stated that the garment was sold in Columbus and Chief Sheridan took the man to that city to recover the coat. An effort will be made to have the man prosecuted there on a charge of disposing of stolen property. In that way the prisoner may get a stiff workhouse sentence. The coat was valued at $45.

Johnstown Reception. The reception given by the people of Johnstown in recognition of the election to Congress of Hon. Wm. A. Ashbrook, was most elaborate and showed the respect of the people for their distinguished son. The celebration embraced everything from music to feasting. The speeches were made by prominent men of the district, Tuscarawas being represented by Hon. J. E. Hurst. It is a tribute to any man when, irrespective of party, the citizens celebrate his election to a high office. It shows that he stands well at home and what better criterion can we have to judge a man's character than by the testimony of those who best know him?—Ohio Democrat and Times.

ALL LOOK TO DUMONT

Aeronauts Marvel at Brazilian's Successful Flight.

THE BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA

Prediction That Achievements in Near Future Will Surpass the One Made in Paris With "Heavier-Than-Air" Flying Machine—First Important Demonstration of the Kind Made in Public—Cost Not Large.

M. Santos-Dumont's accomplishment in flying 685 feet in a "heavier-than-air" machine in Paris the other day was the chief topic of discussion at a meeting of aeronauts and men interested in aeronautics recently held at the Hotel Astor in New York.

"It marks the most positive advance yet made in the science of aeronautics," said Mr. Augustus Post. "There have been many reports of the successful performance of similar feats, but M. Santos-Dumont has publicly demonstrated the entire practicability of the 'heavier-than-air' principle. One of the features that should not be lost sight of is the fact that such a machine as his can be made for not to exceed $3,000, while $100,000 would not buy a Lebaudy airship of the gas bag design. As soon as the public becomes accustomed to the operation of these airships they will be as numerous and more popular than automobiles."

"More than anything else the achievement of Santos-Dumont will compel other inventors to come into the open and make public what they have accomplished," said Mr. J. C. McCoy, who made many ascents in Paris last summer in company with Lieutenant Lahm and as his own pilot. "It marks the beginning of a new era in aeronautics," he added.

Stimulated by the feat of Santos-Dumont, Dr. Julian P. Thomas has renewed his experiments with aeroplanes, which he abandoned last summer for ballooning. Dr. Thomas was associated with Mr. Israel Ludlow in the experiments which resulted in the almost fatal accident to the latter in Florida last spring when his airship collapsed.

"Without in any way discounting the achievement of M. Santos-Dumont," said Dr. Thomas, "I believe I have discovered a more correct principle of maintaining equilibrium than his appears to be. I know from my experience in ballooning that one is more than anything else anxious to know how he is going to land. When that problem is solved the rest is easy. I have already set to work carrying out my own ideas. Like all other inventors, I expect of course to succeed, but at least I have enough confidence in my plan to risk my own neck in trying it out. I shall have the aeroplane finished within a few months, and by next spring at the latest I shall probably either have succeeded in proving my theory or disproving it to my own cost."

A. M. Herring, who has been experimenting for a dozen years with gliding machines and aeroplanes, said that M. Santos-Dumont's feat was chiefly of importance as having been the first public demonstration of the practicability of flying with a machine without the aid of a gas bag.

"It is furthest from my thoughts to appear to disparage M. Santos-Dumont's performance," he said, "and he deserves extreme credit for what he accomplished, but the fact remains that the Wright brothers in this country have far exceeded his feat, although not in public tests. I do not blame the public for being suspicious of claims which are made without proof, however, and the fact that thousands of persons saw with their own eyes the flight of M. Santos-Dumont entitles him to all the praise which has been accorded to him."

"With the experience of additional flights he ought to gain confidence and a greater facility in guiding his airship. He is proceeding on the same general principles as almost all aeroplane inventors nowadays, and his ship is probably the type of what will finally become the standard airship when the automobile and even steam and electric lines are displaced for all except freight hauling and short distance runs."

"M. Santos-Dumont regulated himself in light air all right, but the machine of the future must be largely automatic in adjusting itself to the air currents, if it is to be at all safe. By many accidents it has been determined that the mind of man is not quick enough to act in these sudden emergencies."

M. Santos-Dumont's aeroplane feat brings the problem of aerial navigation no nearer to solution than it was a year or two ago, according to the opinion of Orville and Wilbur Wright of Dayton, O., inventors of probably the first successful flying machine.

The latest flight made by M. Santos-Dumont does not appeal to us with the same degree of importance that it does to the people on the other side of the water, where the aeroplane is comparatively new in the problem of aerial navigation," said the Messrs. Wright. "In fact, the flight does not equal one which we made nearly two years ago at Kittyhawk, N. C., with our machine and which we have bettered several times since. At that time, with a twelve horsepower gasoline engine, we covered twenty-four miles in fifty-nine seconds in the face of a wind above the normal velocity. Our motive power, furnished by a gasoline engine, was only one-fourth that used by M. Santos-Dumont, while our ballast exceeded that carried by the Brazilian several hundred pounds."

NEW FACTORY FOR WEST NEWARK NOW IN SIGHT

The Board of Trade has been at work for some time on an effort to secure an industry to occupy the old steel plant factory in West Newark and the indications now point to success. The Board had hoped to keep the details a secret until plans were matured.

The indications are that Mr. Costello and his associates in Pittsburgh will come here and establish a mill for re-rolling steel rails, employing 100 men, nearly all of whom will be skilled mechanics. The company, which proposes to buy the factory Panekner, Newcastle, Ind.; Jas. G. site, remodel and re-equip it, ask a bonus of $50 for each man employed. This means that the board will be asked to raise $5,000. A committee from the board visited Pittsburgh and reported favorably on the proposition. The people will be asked to contribute cash to create the required funds as soon as the contracts are prepared and signed.

Senator Dick at the banquet in Cleveland Monday night undertook to reply to the speech of a Geauga county former judge who went after the slogans given the Republicans of this state, particularly the "stand pat" slogan. The senator talked against tariff revision, going against the growing sentiment in his own party. The Cleveland Leader, the Republican organ in Cuyahoga county, in editorially discussing the Dick speech made use of these words: "Senator Dick should not deceive himself as to the force of tariff revision sentiment." But Dick can easily deceive himself and the public. Deceiving the public is really Dick's profession.

General Grosvenor of Athens, this state, congressman from the Eleventh district who lost in his fight for re-nomination at the Lancaster convention early in the year, is again speaking above a whisper, saying that New York will not be essential to Republican success in 1908. Grosvenor is determined that the powers that be in his party shall not lose sight of him in these days when he is confronted with the prospect of soon being out of a public job.

The Washington Post sees nothing in the returns of the recent election over which any but an optimistic Republican can be excited and only a pessimistic Democrat can be cast down. It sees but one lesson, that there is discontent and distrust everywhere and there is going to be a new deal before long. The Sixtieth congress will be watched as congress has not been watched before, and there's no telling what will happen in 1908.

BIG SILVER LEAF BEING REMOVED

Gigantic Tree on Edwin Haughey's Property, North Fourth Street, to Be Removed.

A number of interested spectators have been watching the removal of the largest tree in Newark, located in front of the Edwin Haughey property on North Fourth street. The gigantic tree, which is full 75 feet in height, and has a circumference of nearly 9 feet, is of the silver-leaf oak species and the mammoth trunk divides into two forks about the size of ordinary trees at a distance of about five feet from the ground. At the junction of these two forks the big tree has begun to split and for fear it might be blown over and cause extensive damage, it has been deemed best to remove it.

The Newark and Granville street car line employees have taken the work in charge in order that no damage will be done the company's trolley wire and connections along Fourth street at this point. The men exhibited so much daring in climbing and swinging about the limbs of the tree at a height of 60 and 65 feet that the danger of their work is brought nearer to the realization of the spectators. In one sense a lineman's work requires more nerve than the man who works on the top of a skyscraper. The man who makes his living by climbing over the narrow ledges of steel 100 feet in the air knows that if he is careful there is very little danger of being hurt, scarcely more than there is on the ground, but the lineman, who climbs to the top of a pole or in the top of a tree 75 feet high has to depend wholly upon the small spurs forced into the wood, and often depending on them alone, when his hands are in use, the lineman dangles about the top of a pole busily engaged at his occupation while the people who pass beneath pay no attention because it is a common sight and because they have never stopped to think of the danger of the "climber."

CANCER OF TONGUE

Wm. Lawrence, Well Known Newspaperman, Undergoing Treatment in Cleveland.

The friends of ex-Senator William Lawrence will be sorry to hear that he is confined in Lakeside hospital at Cleveland by a cancerous growth of the tongue that will probably cause his death. The surgeons performed an operation several weeks ago in which about three-fourths of the cheek and jaw were removed, but it is not thought that the operation will stop the growth of the infection.

Mr. Lawrence is a native of Guernsey county and a well known newspaper man. He was formerly editor of the Zanesville Signal and the Mansfield Shield. He is about 55 years of age and never married.

GILLETTE

to show that Gillette left the suit case on the shore that afternoon and after the girl was drowned walked back on the shore to get it.

The prosecution, through Barrett's testimony, endeavored to show that the suit case was in the boat a few minutes before the girl was drowned and from the fact that the suit case was not wet, the state insists that the boat was not overturned. It has been testified that the next day the suit case and its contents were perfectly dry.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Chester Gillette's own story of how his sweetheart came to her death in the waters of Big Moose lake the evening of Wednesday, July 11, 1906, as related by him to the sheriff, who placed him under arrest at Arrowhead on the Saturday morning following, was re-told by the officer to the jury which is trying the young man on the charge of murder. It was brought out that Gillette had been intimate with the girl for a year.

"When the boat upset accidentally, as you saw, and she was floundering helplessly in the water, why did you not go to her assistance?" Under-Sheriff Klock swore he asked his prisoner.

"Because," he says the young man replied, "I was afraid that she might struggle so that we would both go down."

District Attorney Ward followed up this lead in carrying forward the prosecution's case by presenting in evidence the suit case, the camera and tripod, the tennis racket and other articles which are supposed to have been rescued from the water by the young man after the boat upset.

"Gillette told me," continued the witness, "that he showed to the girl to hold on to the stern of the boat, and he would try to get her ashore. He said he did not get near her, for he was holding on to the bow."

Under-Sheriff Klock's story was the only testimony of interest presented during the afternoon session. He declared that since his arrest Gillette had given three explanations as to how the boat was overturned. When asked if he or the girl was to blame for the alleged accident, he replied, according to the witness: "I suppose I am to blame for it."

Cities Not Adapted to Operate Business Enterprises—Loss of Capital Through New Developments—The Danger a Real One.

It is becoming more and more generally recognized that undertakings founded on the great public needs of the highly organized society of modern times should be controlled by society. Whether, having the power, it is advisable that municipalities should actually engage in such undertakings or whether they should merely maintain their control, as it has been aptly put, through their powers as a landlord, is a matter which will be determined by the municipalities from political, social and economic as well as engineering considerations.

Considering the question from its engineering side alone, it is found that from the very essential nature of the matter only a certain class of engineering undertakings can be efficiently and properly operated by states or municipalities. It is very important that this limitation should be recognized, as where the limitation has been overstepped it has resulted in heavy financial losses to the governing bodies immediately concerned. It has seriously checked development in engineering lines, and these results have in consequence afforded a strong argument to those opposed to municipal operation of public utilities.

It is true that under state or municipal operation some minor and sporadic developments may be expected, but nothing of a general or important character. Important developments generally come only from the hands of individuals or bodies responsible only to themselves and provided with the incentive of a large profit. The elimination of self responsibility and incentive would inevitably produce a condition in industrial and scientific development analogous to the dark ages.

It is to be noted that this conclusion is derived from engineering considerations alone and does not include any consideration from the political, social or economic side. There may, it is conceivable, be political, social and economic considerations which tend to affect this limitation. Considered, however, from the engineering standpoint alone there can be no question but that the field of state and municipal operation should be limited to undertakings in which there is no immediate prospect of or need for improved method.

A danger which is always associated with the ownership of industrial undertakings is that the capital invested may be lost through the development of new and cheaper methods and processes. The extent to which industrial machinery of certain types is rendered obsolete by new improvements is not always realized. The writer is personally acquainted with one street car railroad plant in which the entire electrical equipment of the power house was thrown out and replaced with improved machinery four times within a period of ten years. The Carnegie company is reported, correctly, it is believed, to have scrapped on one occasion more than $1,000,000 worth of new machinery which had never been used.

This has already become a serious matter for many municipalities which have engaged in undertakings lying outside of the engineering limits defined above. Many of these municipalities installed plants for the production of electric light at a time prior to the advent of important improvements in generating and distributing electricity, and as these municipalities in coming with most municipalities made no provision for depreciation the capital invested has been practically lost, and in addition the cost of electric light to the consumer is much higher than it is in other places equipped with later and more economical types of machinery. In addition, heavy and expensive repairs have been necessary and the taxes correspondingly increased. This has reacted upon the municipalities, since the heavy rates have caused manufacturers to move away to other towns, and this again has still further increased the burden upon those remaining. There are already indications that a considerable number of these municipalities which are entering upon a period of financial difficulty.—R. A. Fessenden.

As a Socialist Sees It.
Every recognized authority on Socialist economics, from Marx to Ferri, has been and is an avowed economic evolutionist. They all without exception recognize that public ownership under capitalism must come before the full Socialist programme can meet with realization.

When the Socialist party shall succeed to power in municipality, state or nation it will fall heir to the holdings of its capitalist predecessors. Every dollar's worth of property that we can wrest from private capitalism through public ownership will fall into the hands of the Socialist party without a struggle upon its succession to power.—International Socialist Review.

What Government Is For.
It is the appropriate function of the government to safeguard the individual and to see that the game of business is fairly played, that the cards are held above the table and that everybody is given a square deal. It is not the appropriate function of the government to sit in the game.—H. L. Lester M. Shaw.

COULD WE LIVE 100 YEARS

The Secret of Long Life is Not in How We Eat, But in What We Eat.

Most people wouldn't want to exist for that length of time, but most of us want to live, to say at least seventy-five years, to enjoy the well-earned rest of toil.

We can't live even to that age unless we take care of our stomachs. The American has a longer life now than he had 50 years ago—statistics say so, and it must be true.

Why is it? Not because he works harder, but because he takes greater care of his machine—his body, machine.

He has learned that it is a sin to overwork and burn out the stomach with too much heat producing material,—meat, for instance.

Heat is not strength, it is weakness.

Muscle and bone is the strength we need. The heat part will then come naturally and never be excess. Let us not hunt for it.

The hot stomach makes the brain hot.

The hot brain makes dullards of the quick.

Wheat! The purest wheat, the wheat with the starch, the albumen and the fibrin! This is the fighting material millions are buying today.

Wheat grains have a shell. The shell is not good to eat. You cannot digest it.

It makes the stomach work overtime.

Buy the purified wheat, the nearly grain from which the chaff, the hull and the husk, and everything not rich and delicious is thrown out.

That is Hardyfood. Every part of it is consumed by the body and taken into the blood to make tissue.

It doesn't make clinkers but it will make you over.

It will give you a new stomach, and clear out your kidneys. What will be the result? You will have better digestion, no constipation, full nutrition.

You will endure hardship better because it will give you power and strength in muscle and brain force. Your mind will be clear, active and healthy.

Hardyfood is cooked ready to serve.

Eat it with cream, you will find it delicious.

The stomach grabs at it, that is why it satisfies you.

Remember that Hardyfood has all the good that meat has, and three times more.

Meat has a small part of what wheat has, and three times less.

But you needn't stop eating meat altogether. A little now and then is useful. But cut down your allowance and try Hardyfood.

From the time you try your first package of Hardyfood, your history will begin.

Your grocer will sell you a package for 10 cents.

The committee of arrangements having the matter in charge was composed of S. H. Beadle, Harry J. Payne, John B. Courtney, Cliff Hawkins, C. J. Baker and Jesse Groves.

INTERESTING CASE

Is That of Eric Owens vs. Jane Lewis and Others in the Local Probate Court.

The case of Eric Owens against Jane Lewis and others, suit to restore a pretended record of adoption of Eric Owens by David W. Lloyd, has been on trial in the Probate court. The case is one of the most interesting that has come before the Probate court in a long time and involves many fine points of law.

In the early fifties John James and Eric Owens' mother came here from Wales, bringing Eric with them. Eric's mother died in 1855 or 1856, and John James married Mary Jones. The boy, living with his foster parents, ran in the streets, became a bad boy and would not stay at home.

In 1857 David W. Lloyd, who lived north of Newark, visited at the Jones home and learned something of the boy. He said to Jones, "Give me the boy and I will make him mine." Arrangements were made to do this and the parties came to the court house it is said, and some arrangement was made by which the possession of the boy was transferred to David W. Lloyd. From that time on until their Civil war Eric Owens lived with Lloyd. He went to the war and at its close returned to the Lloyds. In 1865, or 1869 Lloyd moved to Emporia, Kas., and Eric went with him and lived with the family until he was married when he moved to Lawrence, Kas. The Lloyds always treated him as their child and he called them father and mother.

In 1903 Lloyd died. Previous to his death it is said that he made a will in which he distributed his estate among his relatives, giving to Eric Owens $10,000. After his death the will could not be found, and all the heirs of David W. Lloyd, including Eric, signed a contract that one R. B. Thomas, who had written the will should reproduce it from memory, and that the estate should be distributed among them as provided by the will so reproduced.

Afterwards suit was brought in Emporia, Kansas, by some of the heirs-at-law of Lloyd claiming their interest in the estate at law, in which suit Eric Owens set up that he was the sole heir at law of David W. Lloyd and entitled to the whole estate, and in order to prove that fact desired to procure a copy of his adoption in Licking county, which he claims was made in 1857, and which he says was destroyed by the burning of the Court house in 1875.

This application is resisted by the heirs-at-law of Lloyd, who claim that no such record ever was made; that John Jones, his step-father, merely bound him out to Lloyd until he was 21 years old.

FIVE CASES OF SWINDLING IN NEWARK

The man J. Jones, who has been swindling Ohio people on an alleged insurance scheme, representing himself as an agent for the North American company, and who was arrested a few days ago, swindled Mr. C. S. Columbus of the East End, out of $11.

A well known Fourth street business man accommodated a smooth check worker by cashing a check for $10.

A well known Newark woman, who is the proprietor of a boarding house, was swindled out of $8 by an old scheme. A smooth stranger called and said he would like to secure a room for a week, and picking out one of the best, agreed to pay her $2 in advance providing she would cash a small check. She accepted the $10 check, giving him $8 in change. The check was drawn on the First National of Indianapolis in favor of C. E. Phillips, and was signed B. E. McCoy. The check was no good.

Recently quite a number of Newark women have been swindled by a well dressed young man who calls at the house and asks to see the "lady". In a most winning manner he asks to be allowed to place a massage chair in the house, agreeing to teach her the art of massage, so she will be able to make any amount of dollars. He informs her that he is not to place the chair himself. He is only making the contract and another man will follow and place the chair in the house. She must, however, pay him $1 so that the other man will know that a good contract has been made. He gets the dollar and that is the last ever seen or heard of him.

Recently an eastern firm sent out a puzzle, a prize being offered for its solution. The puzzle was very easy and a number of Newark children quickly solved it and sent their answers. In a few days all received notice that their solution of the puzzle was correct and that they were entitled to the prize, a set of silver spoons, and that the same would be forwarded upon receipt of $1.35 to any expressage. Several sent the $1.35, and that was the last they ever heard of the matter. The girls wrote to the firm but their letters were sent to the dead letter office.

The former's theme, "The Commercial Relations Between the German Empire and the United States Should Be Reciprocal," was peculiarly apt at this time when German tariff questions are under consideration. Senator Stephen B. BIG CROWD WILL SEE NEWARK PLAY

MT. VERNON WILL PRESENT ITS STRONGEST LINEUP FOR SATURDAY'S GAME.

Nobis Will Probably be Called Upon to Kick Frequently—New Formation and Trick Plays.

The hardest football game of the present season will be the contest between the Newark High school and Mt. Vernon High school at Wehr-Park tomorrow afternoon. Mt. Vernon will come to Newark with their strongest lineup and they have prepared especially for this game. Newark early realized the importance of the contest and commenced practicing trick plays and new formations which they have not used in any other game this year.

It is believed that a record breaking crowd will see this game as it is being thoroughly advertised over the city, and those who will see as good a game as played by any of the minor colleges.

Newark will also present her strongest lineup. Nobis will be back of the line and his kicking will be a big feature for it is anticipated that Newark will be called upon to kick quite often.

A mass meeting of the students was held Friday morning in the High school building and the three upper classes were treated to a good talk by Principal Childs. He explained clearly just what each student should do and what was expected of him. The Freshmen will get in on a meeting of a similar nature tonight.

Prof. Bookman, of Central High, Columbus, gave the football squad a talk last night in the High school building, illustrating some new plays.

There is more enthusiasm right now in the High school athletic association than there has been for years and it is thought that 800 or 1000 people will see the game Saturday.

Van Voorhis of Denison will officiate for the Newark school, and perhaps Rawlinson of Mt. Vernon for the visitors. The Knox county school will bring a good crowd of rooters with them.

BOWLING LEAGUE

The Flicker club defeated the Gimlet club last night. In a protested series at the Music Hall. The last game of the three was not noticed by the Gimlet aggregation on account of an argument which took place during the evening. In the last game a Gimlet club player attempted to roll a ball, when his shoe caught in a spinner and the ball was lost. It was a dead ball but was not called by the umpire. The Flickers refused to allow the man to roll the ball again. A meeting will be held Sunday when the matter will be decided. Score:

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private life to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge. Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she will gain your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

A Passing Thought.
A friend wrote me the other day. And she was very kind and true. And she was checked and more tired. With lovely yellow hair. Her hat was large, with plumes of black. Her scalpin coat was brown. But she was going up, tick. While I was going down!

I caught a shy and dozing glance. But made my business fast. And holding to my job. My boss is cross when clerks are slack; When late I fear his frown. And she was going up, tick. While I was going down!

I felt a helpless sort of rage; I cursed my business fate. The boy he closed the gate. I merely glummed her shapely back. The flutter of her gown. But she was going up, tick. While I was going down!

Mr. Bowser Paints Fence

Takes a Day Off For the Purpose of Improving Appearances a Little.

CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE

Philosopher Finally Compelled to Flee For Safety Into the House From Two Men.

(Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

MR. BOWSER hadn't dropped the slightest hint of his intentions, but after breakfast the other morning, instead of being in a rush to get away to the office, he leaned back in his chair and said:

"As business is not rushing just now and as that front fence wants painting pretty badly, I guess I will take a day off."

"Why, you painted the fence only last spring," replied Mrs. Bowser as visions of what happened on that occasion rose up before her and brought an anxious look to her face.

"Yes, I did, but the past summer has been a hard one on paint. One judges of a man's character by the looks of his front fence. Ours has got to be freshened up a bit for the winter, and now is just the time to do it."

"Couldn't I hire a painter for half a day and pay him out of my money? That would save all the slopping around."

"Half a day! Why, how long do you suppose it would take the average painter to go over that fence with a coat? He would be from four days to a week, and he would steal half the paint at that. I have the time and the inclination, and I shall do the work. There will be no slopping around, as you call it. Not one drop of paint will be wasted."

THEN SHE MADE A LITTLE SPEECH.

There Was No Use to Argue.
Mrs. Bowser saw that it was no use to argue the point, and she knew what things would turn out, and she knew that Mr. Bowser fence even if an earthquake came along and heaved it out of the ground while he was at work. She therefore raised no further objections, and he got into an old suit and began looking up the necessary things. He upset the bucket, the kitchen, the shed, the basement and the whole house for an hour before he was ready to go to work, and then in mixing his paint he got hold of a can of gasoline instead of linseed oil and made free use of it.

"Is that to keep the moths off the fence?" asked Mrs. Bowser when she discovered what he had done.

"Never mind about the moths," he replied as he went on whistling and stirring. "I was painting fences when you were yet playing with rag dolls, and I never made a mistake yet."

After splattering up the kitchen floor until it looked as if it had had a case of measles he went gayly to his work on the fence. The public let him alone until he had coated six feet of the outside of it. Then a man came along and asked where Jones lived. Jones had got some goods on the installment plan and could not be found at the address given. Ninety-nine men out of every hundred will lean on a fence if it is handy by when asking where Jones lives. This man did. He rubbed his back up and down against the pickets and the fresh paint for a couple of minutes before he made any discovery. Then he jumped away just as Mr. Bowser sang out to him:

"Say, you blamed jackass, what are you trying to do there?"

His Feelings Hurt.
The man was hurt in his feelings. Up to this point he had had every confidence in Mr. Bowser. Now it was different. He had been betrayed and deceived, and he boiled over. He had even rubbed his chin whiskers against the paint. He called Mr. Bowser names. He made threats. He offered to give him the licking of his life. There would have been a fight but for a policeman coming around the corner. At sight of him the man who wanted to see Jones walked slowly away, but as he did so he informed Mr. Bowser that centuries might come and go before he would forgive him.

"The rubbed spot was recanted and six feet more of the picketing finished when a painter with a stepladder on his shoulder and a bucket of paint in his hand came along. He smelled the gasoline afar off and began to grin. In his inmost soul he knew that the paint would not dry in a month of Sundays. He was also a man who contended that painting should be left to painters, no matter how often they left their jobs and went around the corner to take a drink.

"You've struck it, old boss," he announced, with unpardonable familiarity as he came to a halt and began sniffing.

"Are you addressing me, sir?" asked Mr. Bowser as he straightened up stiffly.

Jeered at by Painter.
"If you'd put in some lard on top of that gasoline you'd have made a great bit!" chuckled the painter. "Doing your own work in order to save a dollar or two, eh? Not willing to give a poor man a chance to earn his bread and butter? Yuh on such men as you?"

Mr. Bowser laid down his brush and called the painter names. He went clear back to the landing of the pilgrims to prove that the average house painter was without ambition or honor or industry. The painter put down his ladder and bucket and called Mr. Bowser a liar. He also backed up against the fence in his excitement and rubbed off most of the paint that had been put on a few minutes before. He was a peaceful man, he said. He was not one of those men who cannot see a canary bird without wanting to pick up a crowbar and pound its brains out, but yet he would then and there cheerfully fight Mr. Bowser to the death. Bones might have been broken and blood shed had not a friend of the painter's come along and informed him that the president of the Rapid Working Painters' union had just fallen dead of heart disease and that there was a chance for him to fill the vacancy.

Nothing happened for the next ten minutes. Mr. Bowser went on with his work and recovered his good nature, and he was wondering whether he ought to have mixed a little kerosene with the gasoline when a fat woman came along and halted. She had a daughter working as cook in a family named Schermerhorn, and she wanted to ask Mr. Bowser if he was the man, if so, she wanted to tell her daughter that cooks had become so scarce that they could sass their mistresses without fear of discharge. In fact, she did ask him, and he turned to see that she was rubbing the paint off his fence.

Woman Abuses Him.
"Haven't you got eyes, woman? Haven't you got a nose?" he yelled at her.

She jumped back and saw the state of her dress, and then she made a little speech. It was directed at Mr. Bowser. She referred to his squintness, to his fatness, to his bald head, to his being so far below the average jackass in point of intelligence that it was useless to waste English as taught at school No. 4 on him. He sought to break in on her and interrupt her torrent of words, but he might as well have tried to stay the Johnstown flood. She talked for five minutes and then went her way to leave his mind in a whirl. He had to go all over the painted part again, and he had only got it nicely finished when two men came along with a trunk on a wheelbarrow and started to turn in at the gate.

"Here! Where you going?" was demanded of them.

"I've brought my trunk," one of them explained.

"What have you brought it here for?" "Why, I engaged room and board here last evening."

"You did nothing of the kind. Do I look like a man that keeps boarders?" The two men wanted to argue the matter, and as they argued they leaned on the fence. A man leaning on a freshly painted fence can always argue better than a man standing on his head in the road. They rubbed and argued and rubbed. They were sure it was the house and just as sure that Mr. Bowser was the man who had taken a week's room rent in advance. He held his temper for three minutes, and then the discovery that his work had been ruined again precipitated trouble. He called them liars, and they rejoined in kind, and Mrs. Bowser reached a front window just as three men and a trunk and a wheelbarrow got all mixed up in the front yard. The mix lasted five minutes. Then she opened the door for Mr. Bowser to shoot into the house and shut it against those who would follow.

"Well, you would paint, you know," she said as she turned on him.

He sat down without a word in reply to wipe his bleeding nose and caress his bitten ear, and for almost the first time in his married life he forgot to threaten divorce. He had gone out to paint and had been painted.

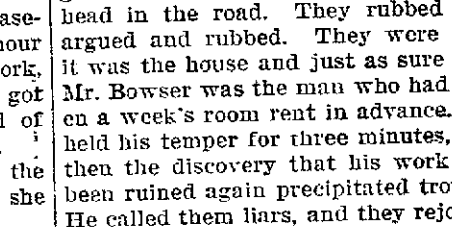

M. QUAD.

A Change of Base.

"Now that your artist friend has married his model, I suppose their positions will be reversed."

"How so?"

"Well, he used to make her pose for him, and now I suppose she'll make him stand around."—Philadelphia Press.

QUENTIN IN NEW ROLE.

How President Roosevelt's Youngest Son Confuted Class Room.

For a few seconds the other day Quentin, youngest son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, created an uproar in one of the class rooms of Force school, on Massachusetts avenue in Washington, where he is enrolled as a pupil, says the Washington Post. It is said that he assumed the prerogatives of his teacher for a brief period while she was out of the room.

The teacher had been making an effort to impress upon the pupils the evil of overindulgence in certain beverages.

"All those who drink coffee for their breakfast may stand," she said. A large portion of the school arose, and then the teacher said:

"Now, all those who take tea either in the morning or evening may arise." Again a part of the school stood. Just at that moment the teacher was called from the room. As she disappeared through the door Quentin jumped to his feet, held up his hand to command attention and said:

"All those who take champagne for their lunch may now stand on their heads."

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste and impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is now realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Dr. J. V. HILLIARD, Attorney-at-Law, practices in all the State and U. S. and Circuit Courts. Prompt attention given to settlements of estates. Notary Public in office. 36-1 West Main street, in Wehrle Block.

STATE NEWS

Going Over the Books.
Gallipolis, O., Nov. 23.—E. E. Gatewood, president of the Gallipolis Furniture company, has been missing since Oct. 25, and there is much uneasiness in furniture circles. The affairs of the company have been placed in the hands of Hollis C. Johnson for investigation. It is said the debts of the company will amount to $180,000. An expert accountant is now going over the books to ascertain the true situation of affairs and to learn if there is any shortage.

Bank Teller Out.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 23.—Bert Cavanaugh, the First National bank teller, who confessed that he had taken $31,600 of the bank's funds, was admitted to bond ball, a bond of $20,000 being furnished by his friends. The officials of the bank say that his surety bond of $35,000 will cover the shortage, which is undoubtedly no larger than he had admitted.

Official Vote in Ohio.
Columbus, O., Nov. 23.—The official canvass of the votes cast in the state Nov. 6 has been completed by the statisticians in Secretary of State Laylin's office. The total vote of the state was 812,263. The scattering vote which was not counted because of irregularities amounted to 19,908. In Lucas county alone 4,300 ballots were thrown out because they were not properly marked. The official totals for secretary of state of all parties are: Hoskins (Dem.), 351,676; Thompson (Rep.), 408,068; Oily J. Henslee (Soc.), 18,432; Max Eisenberg (Soc. Labor), 2,211; Alfred T. Hughes (Pro.), 11,970. Thompson's plurality was 56,390. The total vote of the state was 812,263. The returns show that the farmer candidate, Rebeck W. Dunlap, for dairy and food commissioner, led the Republican ticket by 18,675. Hoskins (Dem.) for secretary of state led his ticket by approximately 5,000.

Hunters Attack Farmer.
Mentor, O., Nov. 23.—Al Gerry, a farmer living north of here, is unconscious at his home, probably fatally wounded, as the result of an attack on him by two Cleveland hunters. The Cleveland men were hunting near Gerry's residence. Gerry went out to ask them to go away. One struck Gerry two blows on the top of the head, cutting a deep gash and perhaps fracturing the skull. Gerry fell unconscious and the men ran.

Miner's Fate.
New Philadelphia, O., Nov. 23.—Ernest Varado, a miner, aged 25, employed by the Beaver Dam Coal company at Klondike, was filling a cartridge with powder when his lighted hat lamp fell into an open can of the explosive near him. He was blown out of his shoes, the buckles bursting. He received fatal injuries.

Ouster Against Brewers.
Toledo, O., Nov. 23.—Suit to oust the Huebner-Toledo Breweries companies from its charter was filed in circuit court here by Prosecuting Attorney Wachensheimer. The company was formed by a merger of three local breweries March 15, 1905. Violations of the Valentine anti-trust act are alleged.

Toledo Business Man.
Toledo, O., Nov. 23.—Carl Lenk, prominent and well known as one of Toledo's oldest business men, is dead. He was 72 years old.

Illness Serious.
Lima, O., Nov. 23.—Judge William H. Cunningham, eight years on common pleas bench, is seriously ill of blood poisoning.

CREDITORS

Of Count Boni de Castellane Have Their Day in Court.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The attorneys for the creditors of Count Boni de Castellane completed their arguments before the tribunal of the first instance and the case was adjourned until Nov. 28, when Maitre Cruppi will reply. Among the creditors was an antiquarian who claimed $57,000 for Gobelin tapestries and other articles. Another bill for jewels, valued at $21,000, purchased from Mlle. Vera Nimidoff of Odessa, revealed an interesting tale, according to which Mlle. Nimidoff's brother, returned from the Russo-Japanese war, was compromised in the revolutionary movement and was condemned to death and executed, entailing the ruin of the family. Mlle. Nimidoff then came to Paris, where she sold the jewels to Count Boni through the intermediary of a jeweler.

Confidence Men Seized.
Chicago, Nov. 23.—Five men said to be members of a gang of confidence men who have swindled foreigners returning to their native country out of many thousands of dollars were arrested here. The gang was composed of two Austrians, one Frenchman and two Italians. These men frequented Chicago railroad depots, where they met countrymen returning to their homes in Europe.

Postpones Visit to Philippines.
Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary Taft's intended visit to the Philippine Islands will be probably postponed until next fall. The proposed law establishing legislative districts and providing for an election to a general assembly as now drafted calls for an election about June 1 next. The opening of the general assembly will not be until 90 days later. He had planned to go about April 1 next.

OPERATIVES VOTE TO STRIKE

Reject Offer of Five Per Cent Increase, Demanding Ten.

OVER 24,000 ARE INVOLVED

Thirty Corporations, Operating Seventy-five Cloth Mills, Would Be Affected by a Tieup—Belief Expressed That Manufacturers Can Not Afford to Risk a Suspension.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 23.—The five unions of cotton mill operatives at special meetings voted by large majorities to reject an offer of a 5 per cent advance in wages, and to go out on strike next Monday unless the demand for a 10 per cent increase is granted before that time.

Should a strike go into effect about 25,000 operatives would be thrown out of work and more than 30 corporations, operating 75 cloth mills, would be affected. There was very little discussion at any of the meetings, the decision to strike being decisive. The textile council held a meeting after the unions had finished their voting, but took no action.

James Tansey, president of the textile council, said after the meeting: "I hope the manufacturers will see the wisdom of changing their attitude. There seems to be no power on earth to stop these people from striking unless wages are advanced 10 per cent." The union officials say that quite a number of operatives, fearing trouble, have already left the city.

No definite statement could be obtained from any of the officials of the manufacturers, and there was no confirmation of a rumor that the mill owners would grant the additional 5 per cent advance asked. There is a feeling in business circles that even if a strike occurs on Monday that it will be of short duration, as it is held that the manufacturers are not in a position to permit their mills to be closed for any great length of time in view of the prosperous condition of the industry.

SENATOR SCHMIDT NOT READY TO SAY WHAT PLANS WILL BE.

"We Will Try," Says Schmidt, "to Have Committee Appointed With Dempsey as a Member."

Cleveland, O., Nov. 23.—State Senator Thomas P. Schmidt of Cleveland, a member of the Lexow committee, expects to go to Cincinnati within the next week or 10 days to aid Philip Roettinger, the chief counsel of the committee, and Mayor Dempsey, in devising a plan whereby the investigation into the public affairs of Cincinnati, if not Hamilton county, can be picked up at the point it was dropped when the committee was forced to suspend its labors. "I am not yet ready to say just what our plans will be," said Senator Schmidt. "We will try, however, to have a local committee appointed in Cincinnati, of which Mayor Dempsey will probably be either active or ex-officio member."

STATE OF OHIO IS THE PLAINTIFF

SUIT FILED AGAINST BUCKEYE PIPE LINE COMPANY AT FINDLAY.

Petition Signed by Attorney General—Defendant Alleged to be Part of Standard Oil.

Findlay, O., Nov. 23.—The state of Ohio is the plaintiff in a suit filed in the circuit court by County Prosecutor William David against the Buckeye Pipe Line company.

The petition as filed alleges that the Buckeye Pipe Line company is organized under the laws of Ohio, with the capital stock of $10,000,000, and is empowered to transport and store petroleum by means of pipes. The petition charges that ever since its organization in 1886 it has been a member of an illegal combination known as the Standard Oil trust. It operates in six counties in northwest Ohio and charges 20 cents per barrel for the transportation of oil any distance. Such charges, it is said, are only nominal, and they are imposed to prevent others from availing themselves of such facilities. The charges are alleged to be wholly disproportionate to the services rendered. It is stated to be the duty of the defendant as a common carrier to afford the public equal facilities for use of its pipe lines, and that the charges should not be more than one-eighth of 1 per cent.

Plaintiff prays for an alternative writ of mandamus to issue out of the circuit court and that the defendant provide for the public equal and just facilities and transportation in Ohio and fix a scale of rates. The petition is signed by Wade H. Ellis, attorney general.

INTO SLAVERY

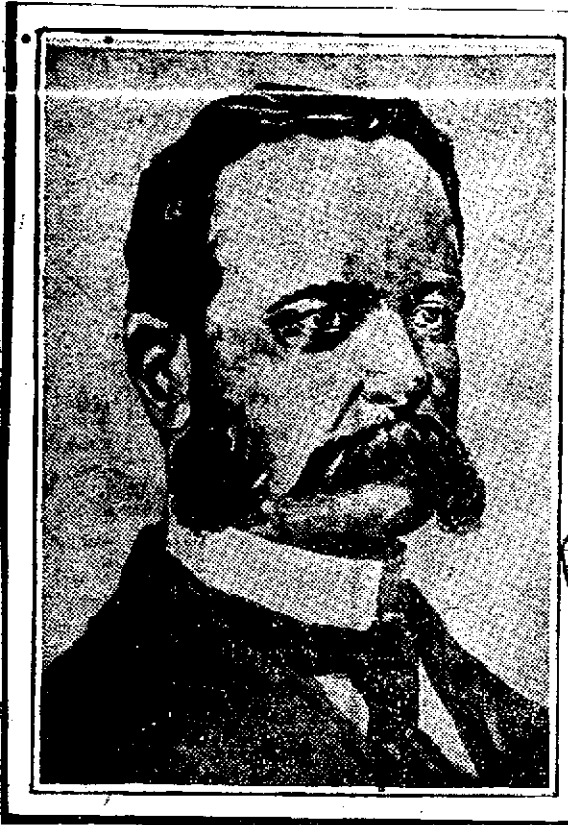

Daughters of Starving Peasants Sold. Blow at Terrorism.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 23.—Reports received from the famine districts of Russia show that the distress is steadily growing acute. The peasantry in the government of Kazan have been driven to desperation and are selling their daughters into slavery to Mohammedans of the Caucasus. The ages of the girls sold range from 12 to 17 and the prices realized from $15 to $75. A form of typhus known as "hunger typhus," resulting from starvation, is epidemic in Kazan.

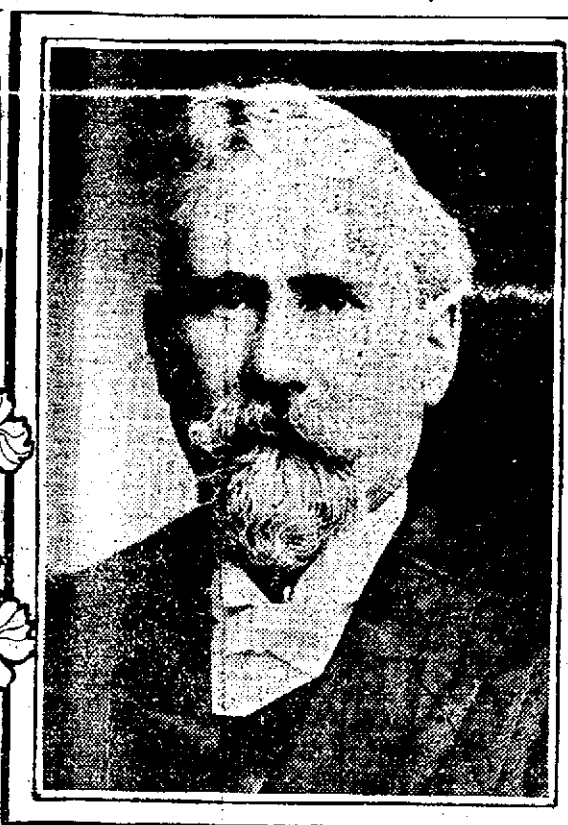

The Finnish senate's decision to yield to the Russian premier's demand for co-operation with the Russian police in arresting Russian refugees, thus renouncing the right of asylum in Finland, is a staggering blow to the revolutionary cause in the grand duchy. Since the latter regained its autonomy it has been the base of revolutionary activity, hundreds of terrorists and revolutionists living openly at Helsinki, Viborg and other centers, among them being Gerschwin, the noted terrorist and accomplice in the assassination of Minister of the Interior Sipiagin, who escaped recently from Siberia in a water cask. Several conventions of revolutionist and terrorist organizations have been held on Finnish soil and arms and explosives have been smuggled into the grand duchy in large quantities.

The vice president delivered two addresses, one in the courthouse square during his review of the parade of veterans of the blue and gray, and one at the fair grounds. After the speeches the vice president made a tour of the various exhibits, being frequently stopped by groups who wished to shake his hand. BEAUTIFUL ENGLISH WOMAN WHO LEADS IN A RIDING INNOVATION.

VISCOUNTESS CASTLEREAGH.

London, Nov. 23.—"In a few years, if the present movement continues, we shall probably see all the women in the Row riding astride."

This is the conclusion of an old employee in the Royal Park, a careful observer, who has seen the question, "Should women ride astride," raised more than once.

Among the distinguished women who ride astride at present are Lady Castlereagh, the Duchess of Westminster, the Hon. Mrs. Fairburn and Lady Constance Stewart-Richardson. Lady Castlereagh is for the moment the most prominent exponent of this method in London, owing to her husband being a member of Parliament.

She is in town this November and daily rides in the Row. She looks charming on horseback, and it takes some consideration to realize that she is wearing a divided riding costume. The only comment one hears as she canters on her dark little mare is: "How neatly that lady rides!"

INVESTIGATION BY CONGRESS LIKELY

NEGRO TROOPS DISCHARGED IN SOUTH TO BE TAKEN TO NORTHERN CITIES.

Men Being Mustered Out at Rate of 25 a Day—Will End Next Monday.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary Taft said that he had not considered any action by congress in relation to the discharge of the negro troops which shot up Brownsville, Tex., and was ordered dismissed from the service in consequence. "But there is one thing I have learned that congress can do," he said, laughingly. "It can investigate. I know that from experience. Congress has investigated everything I have ever had anything to do with."

Future of Discharged Troops.

New York, Nov. 23.—The three companies of negro troops discharged from the United States army by order of President Roosevelt will be taken to Chicago, Philadelphia and New York, according to a plan announced in this city. The movement is said to have been started by the citizens of the three cities. According to this plan the former soldiers will be clothed and cared for by committees selected for the purpose, and plans have been so arranged that any citizen who is interested in the case and who desires to hear the soldiers' side of the story will have access to the men.

Troops Mustered Out.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A dispatch was received at the war department from Major Penrose, commanding the Twenty-fifth infantry at Fort Reno, saying that the order for the discharge of the negro troops under the president's original order had been received and was being executed. He said the men were being mustered out at the rate of 25 a day and that the mustering would be completed by Monday.

ROOT'S IDEA ACCEPTABLE

Trans-Mississippi Congress May Recommend Ship Subsidies.

COMMITTEE FAVORS SCHEME

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Colonel Bryan Address the Convention, the Nebraska Offering an Anti-Trust Resolution—Both Declare Themselves on Subvention.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—The committee on resolutions of the Trans-Mississippi congress, in session here, after due consideration of ship subsidy proposition, decided to recommend to the congress a resolution practically supporting Secretary Root's ship subsidy suggestion, that the United States may have an adequate merchant marine. The resolution will suggest that the government subsidize their mail steamship lines between the United States and South America.

Secretary of Treasury Shaw and William J. Bryan had the lion's share of attention here among a long list of speakers at the three sessions of the Trans-Mississippi congress. Secretary Shaw, who spoke particularly for a wider foreign market for American goods, made this declaration: "If this country ever develops international merchants it will accomplish it by granting them encouragement, not only by dredging harbors and deepening channels, but by insuring them a merchant marine in which to carry under the most favorable terms the products of our farms, our mines, our forests and our factories. Secretary Root has gone a step further than I propose to go in favor of a merchant marine. He commits himself to the ship subsidy idea. I do not say that I am in favor of a ship subsidy, but I will say that I am in favor of anything that will secure a merchant marine for the United States."

Speaking of South American trade expansion possibilities as set forth by Mr. Root, Mr. Bryan said he did not agree with Mr. Root as to the methods suggested. He did not, he said, believe in subsidies. Mr. Bryan then read a resolution affecting trusts which also, he said, he wished might be adopted by the commercial congress at its business session. This resolution, which Mr. Bryan said covered in a general way his hopes regarding trust legislation, follows: "Resolved, that this congress is unalterably opposed to private monopolies and, believing them indefensible and intolerable, favors the enforcement of existing laws and the enactment of such new laws as may be necessary to protect industry from the menace offered by the trusts."

Mr. Bryan said he was glad that at least all people finally had come to be opposed to the giving and receiving of rebates. He spoke of the recent conviction of the sugar trust for receiving rebates, and attacked the Standard Oil company, which he declared had built up much of its business by operating in rebates.

WOMAN WITH GUN SHOT THREE MEN

MISS SCHNEIDER OPENED FIRE ON DR. FRED BIERHOFF IN NEW YORK.

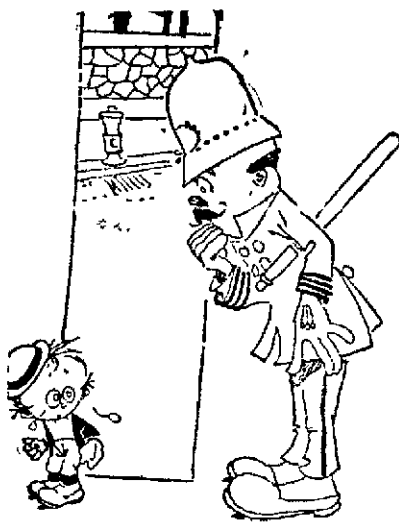

She Was Former Patient and Was Released Upon Promise of Leaving the Country.

New York, Nov. 23.—Miss Otilie Schneider, 42, fired five revolver shots at Dr. Frederick Bierhoff, two of which struck the doctor, one in the body, another in the arm, while two shots struck other men and the fifth proved harmless. The shooting took place at Madison avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Dr. Bierhoff was taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where his wounds were found to be not especially dangerous. One of the other shots took effect in the arm of Otto Groege, a lawyer; another struck Paul Sheehan in the back. Neither of the latter was seriously injured. The woman was placed under arrest. Later, Dr. Bierhoff gave out a statement in which he said that Miss Schneider, who was a former patient of his, began to write him threatening letters several years ago and attacked him on the street about a year ago. At his instance Dr. Bierhoff declared the woman was taken to Bellevue hospital, but later he agreed to her release from the hospital with the understanding that she was to go back to her home in Germany.

CEREMONIAL SCENE IN THE BASILICA OF ST. PETER'S, WHERE PAN-IC REIGNED.

A STATE CEREMONY IN ST. PETER'S. FROM THE TRAVELLER.

A bomb was exploded in St. Peter's Sunday. The great church was crowded and an indescribable scene of confusion followed. There were no fatalities. As soon as the effects of the tremendous roar had ceased a canon sought by reassuring words to quiet the people, but in vain. They fled in all directions and many women fainted. Women and children screamed and men tried to protect their families in the crush. The church is so large, however, that there was ample room for the crowd to scatter, and no one was injured. No trace of the perpetrators of the deed has been found.

The Value of Dandelion

We want you to try at our expense what Dr. Edward's Dandelion Tablets and Pills will do for the cure of your particular form of sickness, so we offer you a trial package free of cost. We do this because it is the right way—the only fair way to convince you that these remedies will positively do all that is claimed for them. We are satisfied of their genuineness, because we spent thousands of dollars for the privilege of putting them on the market. We possess indisputable proof that they have cured thousands of sick folk—that they will cure you also if you will only try them at our expense. Our offer places you under no obligation whatever, because we pay for every trial package that is given away. All you have to do is to cut out the coupon and present it at the drug store named below.

What Dandelion Tablets and Pills Are.

Everybody knows that Dandelion is the most valuable of all Nature's remedies. Well, Dr. Edward's Tablets and Pills are simply common dandelion (Taraxicum) in a concentrated form combined with other harmless ingredients of purely vegetable matter. They are one of the very few proprietary medicines endorsed by the medical profession. If your physician desires to know what these preparations contain, have him write us and we will gladly send him the information together with the name of the expert chemist who superintends their manufacture.

Fac-Simile of Label on Box.

Diseases Cured by Dandelion Tablets and Pills.

Constipation

In constipation the tablets act as a mild cathartic; the pills are slightly stronger, but both tablets and pills act upon the mucous membranes of the intestines, therefore their action is absolutely sure and also for this reason they never grip or cause the least discomfort. They are equally good for children as well as adults, because they are a tonic and do not produce any unnatural condition of the matter.

Stomach Trouble

The Tablets are the best to use in cases of Dyspepsia, indigestion, Sour Stomach, etc., because they tone up the system and stimulate the flow of gastric juice, thus very effectively aiding the digestive organs to perform their proper functions. Their mildly cathartic action also relieves the stomach of all refuse and undigested matter.

Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism.

All Kidney trouble and nearly every case of Rheumatism is due to the presence of uric acid in the blood. Dr. Edward's Dandelion Pills through their direct action upon the Liver and Kidneys restore these organs to a sound and healthy condition. The uric acid then passes away through the natural channel and the blood becomes pure again and free from all poisonous matter. We only guarantee to cure Rheumatism when it is caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood. We have cured hundreds of cases because this is usually the cause of rheumatic affections.

Liver Trouble

Through their direct and immediate action upon the liver Dr. Edward's Dandelion Tablets and Pills induce a natural flow of bile. This relieves the congested condition of the liver and enables it to perform its important work of keeping the bowels and stomach in a healthy condition.

Nervous Trouble

It is well to remember that disordered nerves are nearly always caused by a disordered stomach. We do not make a specialty of nervous troubles unless they are caused by stomach trouble—then we cure them permanently.

Voluntary statement made by Mr. A. H. Sanborn, manager for the Williams Manufacturing Co., makers of the famous Wellington Visible Typewriter.

Boston Mass., April 13, '06

To SCHENCK CHEMICAL CO.

Gentlemen:

Have tried many kinds of remedies for constipation but have never found anything that gives such quick and pleasant relief as your Dandelion Pills. Your Dandelion Tablets have proven an excellent regulator for the stomach, both for my wife and myself.

Now that I have found the Dandelion remedies in a more condensed form will save me the trouble of going into the fields and digging up the dandelion plant and preparing it myself. As soon as the boxes are empty shall send for more, unless you advise me at which drug store I may get them in Boston.

You may say that this word of recommendation is NOT a paid letter as many of them are for advertised medicines.

Signed, A. H. SANBORN.

THIS AND THAT

Licking county quail this year are plump but not plentiful.

Smile and forget it.

An amiable and sensible girl is much to be preferred to one who is merely pretty but some young men are slow to conviction.

Why is it that one's babies are always sweeter and smarter than anybody's else?

Friday the 13th is Thos. W. Lawson's story's title. How would Friday the 23d do?

When told he must go to a "rest cure," entailing an expense of perhaps $1,000, the mean thing told the doctor that he could send his wife to Europe for less and accomplish the same result.

About as wild a gamble as could be imagined would be to bet on tomorrow's weather.

"Was Croesus a very rich man, pa?" "For his time, my son; but I don't suppose he could be elected to the United States Senate today."—Judge.

The society reporters always speak of a bride as being "led to the altar," just as though a bride couldn't find her own way blindfolded.

Thos. W. Lawson of Frenzied Finance fame, has just commenced his course of Frenzied Fiction in the current number of Everybody's Magazine. The first story is entitled Friday the 13th, and it is written in a very interesting way. Mr. Lawson is certainly a brilliant, versatile and a very remarkable man. To him is due the credit for starting the crusade that has waxed so hot in the past year or two. Mr. Lawson will write fiction until the people are ready for his Remedy.

Acquainted.

An exchange says ex-Congressman Eddy of Minnesota was known as the homeliest man in congress. He had, in the opinion of his opponents, "wobbled" on the silver issue in the campaign of 1896. A few years later he was to speak in a small town, and on arriving he saw in an opposition newspaper a headline to the effect that "Two faced Eddy speaks here tonight." That evening when he stepped before his audience he said in his low, sympathetic voice: "You know, ladies and gentlemen, that I'm not the man referred to in this paper. It must be some one else, for there is no one here who does not know that if I had two faces I would wear the other one."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

An Infallible System.

The stranger gazed smilingly around the office and removed his hat, which he laid aside.

"I have here," he began, "a complete memory system perfected by myself. It rejuvenates the power of recalling the past. Buy it and no more the string about the finger, never again a reproachful glance as your wife fishes forth the unmailed letter, never—"

"Nothin' doin'," said the sad eyed man addressed; "there is so much I want to forget."

"George," said the wife of the baseball player, "I think you should spare me at least two muffs this winter. I want a change, you know." "Muffs?" echoed her husband in astonishment. "Why, I haven't any muffs!"

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

The Earl Burgess Stock Company which went to Utica last night because of the appearance at the Auditorium of the Creston Clark company, will resume its engagement at the local theater tonight, presenting "The Queen of the Highbinders." The company has been playing to a good business at the Auditorium this week, at popular prices and has given great satisfaction.

OUR NEW MINISTER.

The highways and byways of the town will soon be gay with new posters advertising "Our New Minister." The last time this sterling comedy was offered here, it made practically unannounced. It made one of the biggest hits in the history of the local theater just the same. Now it is coming back with all the trimmings of a big New York and Boston success. New York and Boston thought it quite as funny as this town voted it. Besides the new outfit of funny posters, the play is to be offered here when it re-appears with the big, scenic outfit that distinguished its last New York run. At the Auditorium Thanksgiving day, matinee and night.

CYRIL SCOTT TUESDAY NIGHT.

Cyril Scott, the star of "The Prince Chap" company, tells of an old dandy down south that was inclined to doubt the Biblical account of Daniel in the lions' den.

"Does yoh mean to tell me dat Daniel dun jumped into dat den uh lions an' dey didn't eat him up?" he demanded of a colored preacher.

"Ya-as, indeedy," replied the parson.

"Dey must have been circus lions dat had been tamed."

"No sah! De Bible says just the contrary."

"Whah does it say dat?"

"Don't it say dat de miracle took place seven hundred and fifty years B. C."

"Yas."

"Well, don't B. C. mean befo circuses?"

"Prince Chap" comes to the Auditorium on Tuesday, Nov. 27.

CRESTON CLARK.

While it is true that the actor who has had such perfect schooling in his art as Creston Clark has had should be able to play almost any part well—and therefore it is not so remarkable after all that our foremost actors can shift from tragedy to comedy and back again, and win encomium for every impersonation that they give—yet it is also true that very often the experienced actor strikes a part that is exactly suited to him. Such a part is that of John Morton, the clergyman, which Creston Clark portrays in "The Ragged Messenger," which was enjoyed at the Auditorium last night though by many Mr. Clark was enjoyed more last season as Monsieur Beauchaire. The audience last night was not large but it was very appreciative.

ORPHIUM THEATER.

Do not fail to attend the Orphium theater this evening. There will be an amateur contest at both performances. The bill this week is pleasing the large crowds who are visiting the Orphium. Remember the school children's matinee Saturday at 3 p. m. Two prizes given away to the boy and girl holding the lucky coupon ticket.

MRS. FISKE EXPLOITS "THE NEW YORK IDEA"

New York, Nov. 23.—The most finished company of actors in this country appeared with Mrs. Fiske Monday night at the Lyric, presenting for the first time in New York City "The New York Idea."

It is in four acts and the scenes are all laid in New York at the present time. The characters are of New York society, some phases of whose life are depicted in a brilliant and amusing manner.

WALTER BALL SANG AT ALEXANDRIA

Turkeys Are Plentiful—Items of Interest From Western Licking County Town.

Alexandria, O., Nov. 23.—The second number of the Alexandria Lecture Course, the Walter Bentley Ball Concert company, was a great success, everybody being delighted. Mr. Ball, of Newark, is a singer of exceptional merit, his voice is a beautiful rich baritone and he uses it with fine effect. Miss Corrina Clackson heard took the audience by storm, from first to last she was the favorite of the evening. Many readers have been heard in Alexandria, but never one of such exceptional merit. She is indeed an artist.

Seth Tower who is engaged in the grocery business in Newark came home on Friday of last week quite sick. He has been confined to his something like the grip.

A sight which would have made the Sultan of Turkey sick was the lay out of 1000 turks in J. D. Loyd's establishment on Saturday night. This is a wonderful argument in favor of the industry and the profit of woman's work on the farm. Who raises all the turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens?—The house wife.

Dr. Laycock and P. M. Ashbrook took a run down to Circleville to pick up facts about the canning industry and to gain all possible information as to the profitability of the industry.

Both these gentlemen are full up with canning factory talk. Those interested in the possibilities of such an industry for Alexandria should apply to these men for information.

The latest reports from Rev. D. S. McMillan are very encouraging. He has been able to retain nourishment and he seems on the way to recovery. His wife and closest friends never lost hope for him, but felt that he would get well.

PROF. R. O. AUSTIN PUBLISHES A BOOK

Prof. R. O. Austin, former teacher in the Newark High school, now of the Columbus Central High school, has prepared for class use a text book on "Elementary Science." This book introduces the first year pupil to the principles of natural philosophy which are met in the accompanying studies of physical geography and other branches of the sciences. The gases are taken up early, as their properties have to do with various meteorological phenomena considered in physical geography. The plan of the work includes full and instructive experiments with inexpensive apparatus. It is to be noted that the new "simplified spelling" is used in this book.

HISPANIC SOCIETY'S NEW MUSEUM IN NEW YORK IS FINEST IN AMERICA.

New York, Nov. 23.—Members of the Hispanic Society have just received beautiful bronze medals, which they consider fine examples of art.

On one side is a figure of Spain instructing a young girl and with the liberty of the New World shining in the distance. On the reverse, between the female figures, is the society's coat of arms, a caravel, with the motto "Plus ultra," between the pillars of Hercules.

The splendid new quarters of the society are on the crest of a hill commanding a view of the surrounding country and of the Hudson river. The building is now practically complete, but a great deal remains to be done before it can be thrown open to the public as a museum and library. There are 17,000 books that have not yet been catalogued; the wonderful collection of coins remains in safes and has not yet been arranged for inspection; the ties, statuary and artistic work of all kinds are packed in crates, and it will require many weeks to set them out for permanent display.

This society of which Archer M. Huntington is the head, has a membership of 100, and its object is to promote the study of all that relates to Spain.
